The "Bridal Chorus" was played at the entry of the bride party. They passed into the parlor and stood fronting a beautiful bank of palms. The decorations were of green and white, and the parlor was decorated with ferns, potted plants and big jars of white chrysanthemums.

A reception followed the ceremony, and dinner was given at the home of the bride, after which Mr. and Mrs. Adams left for a tour of the South for two weeks. On their return they will make their home in Richmond.

MISS DUKE TO WED PRINCE PIGNATELLI

Despite Denials, Close Friends Say That Marriage Has Been Arranged.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

New York, March 12.—When, something like two weeks ago, the engagement of Prince Ludovic Pignatelli D'Aragon to Miss Mary L. Duke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Newton Duke, of New York and Durham, N. C., was rumored, a denial was authorized by Mrs. Duke. After Prince Pignatelli had sailed away for Europe to-day on the Kronprinz Wilhelm it was learned that close friends of his and of the Duke family had been informed that the engagement was now a fact and that the marriage would take place within the next few weeks, in Europe.

Mrs. Duke and her daughter, according to present arrangements, will sail for Europe within two weeks, and Angier Duke, the brother of Miss Duke, is expected to go over about the same time. Whether B. N. Duke will go over for the ceremony is not yet known. There has been one obstacle to the marriage growing out of a question of religion, the prince being a Catholic and Miss Duke a Protestant, but on last Sunday arrangements were started here for a special dispensation covering that when the prince came to-day all the arrangements for the wedding so far as they could be made on this side, had been perfected. The ceremony, it is said, will take place in Paris.

The father of Prince Ludovic is said to have been a very wealthy man, having upwards of $500,000 a year income. He left a large family, and though Prince Ludovic is not the eldest of the children, he got enough from the estate to insure what in many parts of Europe would be considered a good sized income.

Prince Pignatelli visited in Richmond during last January and was much entertained. When he left this city he went to visit the Dukes in North Carolina.

DESCHANEL IS PERSONA NON GRATA AT VIENNA

Makes Another Attempt to Be Named as French Ambassador.

BY LA MARQUE DE FONTENAY.

It is usually those things that are just beyond one's reach that seem most desirable. If there is one thing more than another which Emperor William has always been eager to visit in state, it is Paris, that is to say, the city of the Tuileries. He can never show himself in public. And in the same way Paul Deschanel, years for the post of French ambassador at Vienna. Some years ago he induced the French government to submit his name to Emperor Francis Joseph, who lost no time in intimating to Deschanel that he was persona non grata. Notwithstanding this setback, he is now making another attempt to secure the mission, with the difference of running up against the same insuperable obstacles as previously.

The fact of the matter is that Deschanel, first of all, in a memorable speech in the "Debat" and subsequently in his speech of inauguration and election to the academy, proclaimed aloud, in the most unvarnished manner, the Emperor Francis Joseph's death would prove France's opportunity, since it would bring about the complete break-up of the Austro-Hungarian Empire. He declared that France to secure some territorial compensation. Indeed, he declared that the inevitable wreck of the Hapsburg monarchy, the death of Francis Joseph, would leave France the arbiter between the German and the Russian Empires, and might even make possible the recovery of Alsace-Lorraine by means of diplomacy, and without costing the life of a single French soldier. He added that, under the circumstances, France would do well to keep a careful watch on the health of the Emperor of Austria, and to hold herself in readiness for his death.

Although these utterances were not delivered in Parliament, yet Deschanel was president of the Chamber of Deputies at the time. It is an office which is not held by a man more than that of the Speaker of Congress at Washington, since the executive of the French republic is virtually vested in the hands of the Chamber of Deputies, who always immediately rank him, one on the right and the other on the left, as the official ceremonial and functional.
